CIVIC WORKS UNDERTAKEN BY JUNIOR CHAMBER MONDAY

Fifty-Three Members On Roster When Charter
Is Closed

With forty-six of its fifty-three charter members present, the Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting Monday night at the Florence Restaurant, Niles. The charter was closed and the junior group swung into a discussion of civic problems and means of solving them.

Of primary interest was the decision to start immediately on clearing up and coordinating the night watchman system here. It was pointed out that faith in the service must be revived. Its value, members said, was apparent. A committee was appointed to investigate the possibilities of securing a regulation watchman's clock, and installing a proper system whereby the watchman may be called.

Another committee was named to secure permission to replace the Niles Canyon sign at the south underpass. An existing sign there has long been illegible. It is expected that the new one will be put up within the next few days.

Concluding that a pre-lenten dance would be a profitable venture, the young businessmen voted to secure the Garden of Allah for such an affair, to be held on Saturday night, March 2. Arrangements are already under way.

Taking advantage of the first business session, President Sam Kerns stated that the Junior Chamber stands ready and willing at any time to assist the Niles Chamber of Commerce in any civic work. Kerns emphasized the necessity of cooperation between the two bodies. Installation of officers, at the largest and most elaborate meeting of the year, will be at the Hotel Belvoir on the evening of January 21. At that time there will be delegations from junior chambers throughout the bay district. The Pleasanton Junior Chamber will seat the Niles officers, under the direction of Andrew Jorgensen, Pleasanton president.

Future meeting places of the new organization will be chosen when report of a committee appointed Monday is handed in on the question. All available places will be considered.

Charter members of the Niles junior group, as listed at Monday's meeting, are:

Sam Kerns, Alfred Lanfri, Paul Donovan, Will Cavanaugh, Arthur Roderick, Louis Di Giulio, J. M. Vivieros, Rinaldo Cozzi, Ralph A. Richmond, J. Andrade, Manuel Silva, George Lucas, Alfred King, Frank Foote, B. Joseph, Frank Perry, C. Pine, Charles Champlon, Frank Duarte, J. Avilla, H. Holden, B. Briochi, George Bertel, James Delury, Donald Schneider, J. Bernardo, John Turner, Tony Lucas, Fulton Cesar.

Guido Tuana, J. Pioletti, Tony Silva, Milton Fournier, L. Pine, Fred Amaral, J. Castro, R. Bowen, Howard Denton, Joe Rose, J. Pine, T. Perry, C. Arntzen, Charles Guerazzi, F. Paganini, M. Silva, Raymond Crane, T. George, Frank George, Louis Lewis, N. Rose, J. Cardenas, P. Aberigli.

HEDGE ON FIRST STREET PLANTED EARLY THIS WEEK

Chamber Brings Project
To Early Completion;
Beautifies Town

Discussion of the work being done on First street was the major theme at the Monday meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce with W. B. Kirk, park committee head, telling of progress made up to that time.

Kirk stated that the fence had been repaired last week by railway company crews and that ditching for the hedge was being done. He said that the private cuttings had been obtained and would be set out immediately. In connection with the work, he suggested that letters of thanks be sent to Mrs. W. A. Fothergill, of Pleasanton, who supplied the cuttings; to C. M. Myrick, of the Southern Pacific Company for his efforts in having the fence repaired and to Luna, Mello and Mello, Decoto company that prepared the cuttings for planting.

Following Kirk's remarks, E. D. Bristow spoke, recommending that local people take advantage of an offer by the Hayward High night school for a series of eight lectures to be given during the spring. Bristow said the programs will consist of cultural contributions from other nations.

After short talks by H. L. Scott, on the baseball team, and by Dr. E. C. Grau, on the forthcoming chamber whist, A. J. Petsche read a resume of expenditures and accomplishments of the civic group in 1934. Among the activities were, participation in the Township Fair, the Livermore rodeo parade, the anti-racket council, efforts to improve the canyon road, and clean-up week here. The chamber secured equipment and score-boards for the Niles baseball team, treated the boy scouts on several occasions, sponsored and put on the Wildflower Show, staged its own rodeo booster parade and decorated the town, secured a reflector sign for the dangerous intersection at the underpass, launched a campaign against speeders in Niles, painted the parking stripes, cared for the flag-pole, and decorated the town Christmas tree. Total expenditure for the year was $289.38. Fifty-five visitors were entertained.

At the close of the meet it was voted that henceforth some member must deliver a short talk at each meeting, either on some current topic or on something of extraordinary nature. Speakers will be limited to three minutes.

WILLIAM R. JOLLIFF CALLED BY DEATH AFTER ILLNESS

William R. Joliff, longtime custodian at the Washington Union high school, passed away at his home on the Centerville-Niles road Tuesday. He had not been in good health for many months.

Joliff, custodian at the school, was retired several years ago. Many of the former students at the school knew and loved him for his cheerful nature. He survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Joliff; a daughter, Mrs. Alene Lawler, and a son, Raymond Joliff. He had been a resident of California for 50 years; 30 years of that time spent in Washington township.

Funeral will be held in Oakland this morning under the direction of the Chapel of Palms.

Ernest Martin, ill last week, was sufficiently recovered Monday to return to his work.

TWO MORE THEFTS HERE ON WEEK-END

Bring Burglary Total To Four During Past Month

GET LITTLE LOOT

Bonturi's and Nelson's Places Rifled For Money

Two more Niles business places were burglarized last week-end in what now appears to be one of the most serious crime waves in the district for several years. Loot in both cases was small.

The Pepper Tree Inn, run by Lawrence Bonturi, was entered sometime early Sunday morning by thieves who gained access to the place by breaking of a window pane. The cash register was cleared of pennies and small change, and two "pin and ball" machines removed. The machines were found in the railroad yards Sunday morning by Frank Vargas. Both had been smashed open and the contents taken. A ham and a number of weinies taken by the thieves brought the loss to around $7, Bonturi said. He stated that cigarettes, tobacco and wines, valued at several hundred dollars had not been touched.

Constable O. W. Elbright investigated.

Probably on the same night, thieves smashed the front door lock of the Fred Nelson building on First street, and turned the office topsy-turvy in search of money. The cash register and safe, both purposely left open by Nelson, contained nothing. About fifty cent in pennies was taken from the desk. Nelson discovered the theft when he opened his establishment Monday morning. He stated that thieves made a similar attempt about four years ago. They obtained only a few pennies that time, as well.

The two thefts followed close on the heels of a more serious robbery about two weeks ago, when burglars rifled the Scott shoe store, escaping with goods valued at more than $200. The week before, Mrs. Gladys Crane was slugged when she surprised a man and woman ransacking her apartment on Second street.

Gravel Worker Almost Buried Alive Recently

Having read of entombment of miners in shafts, Tony Amaral of Mission San Jose, workman, was more terrified than hurt, it is said, when he was suddenly buried by a gravel slide at an Irvington plant recently.

The slide, caused by the heavy rains, pinned Amaral against a truck in such a way that it took fellow workmen three hours to extricate him. It was necessary to dig the truck out first. Amaral was buried almost completely. His head was only visible.

Examination after he was released showed only minor bruises.

Decoto May Get Sewer System Through SERA

That a sewer system for Decoto may be the outcome of an investigation of cost of the project by the SERA is seen this week after Harold F. Grey, Mosquito abatement district head in charge of survey, remarked that his crew has finished similar investigation in the Castro Valley, Ashland and San Lorenzo districts, and would soon start on the local project.

Grey had charge of SERA workers who have been assigned to the various proposed works.

2 MASKED BANDITS ROB TRUCK DRIVER IN NILES CANYON

Masked Pair Flag Down
Truck at Brightside
Thursday Night

Attention of county police was focused on southern Alameda county Thursday night when W. L. Stout, San Francisco truck driver, reported to authorities at Pleasanton that he had been held up in Niles Canyon and robbed of approximately $159.

Stout stated that he was flagged down near the Brightside picnic park by two masked men at about 9:30 p. m. Both bandits brandished guns. One kept him covered, he said, while the other forced him to hand over his valuables. They took about $22 in cash and a check for $137. The truck driver was unable to give a description of the men, other than a meagre account of their clothing.

DOG-SHOOTING AT MISSION STIRS UP DISPUTE

Thought at first to have been a small boy with a Christmas rifle, Mission San Jose's dog-shooter this week turned out to be a Mission cattleman, fired by dogs chasing his cattle and turkeys on the range.

The information was disclosed when T. D. Witherly, of Mission San Jose had a citation issued for Mike Overacker, Mission cattleman and rancher, after the latter had allegedly shot his prize collie. According to reports, the shooting took place when the Witherly dog, accompanying the Witherly boys on a hike, ran across the fence line on to property owned by W. A. Starr, who had agreed with Overacker that marauding dogs must be kept away from the stock. The animal was shot as a consequence it is said.

Overacker and Witherly will meet tomorrow afternoon at the Niles justice court with Assistant District Attorney Stanley Smallwood. It is not known whether or not Witherly will attempt to press charges.

Dogs belonging to George Darrow and Sam Metzger both of Mission San Jose were killed recently. It is said that they were running stock and fowl on the Overacker ranch.

According to authorities ranchers are justified in shooting animals found molesting their stock.

TOYON BRANCH WILL MEET AT CAMPBELL NEXT MONDAY

The Toyon Branch of the Children's Hospital will hold its next regular meeting, Monday, January 14, at the home of Mrs. J. E. Townsend, in Campbell. The meet will be in the nature of a luncheon.

Mrs. Townsend, an active member of the group while here, recently moved to Campbell. Her absence in the organization will be felt, members declared.

The Monday meeting will be in the nature of a house-warming for Mrs. Townsend. All members of the group are urged by the chairman to attend. The Townsend address at Campbell is 127 Alice street.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

By NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

REGARDLESS—THE EDITOR CHOOSES TO LIVE!

Last Sunday the writer was fifty years old. How does it feel to be fifty? Can one really express how he feels as he passes from middle age into the first lap of old age? We have delved into the innermost recesses of our mind and heart to find an answer, and we profess that we are baffled.

It was Osler, who fifteen years or so ago, startled the world by expressing the conviction that at fifty men should be chloroformed and put out of their misery. That while they lived before fifty, after that they only existed, and were better off dead than eternally sorry for themselves.

While our health is remarkably good—except for our partial deafness, perhaps without a flaw—we shall have to subscribe moderately at least to the Osler theory. For several years we have noticed that our interest in things is not nearly so avid as formerly. We have been disillusioned. We are no longer superman, to do what others cannot, or have not done.

One of the most wonderful things about living is believing in ourselves. To believe, that while we have not yet made a tremendous success, or even a success at all, we will do so. Certainly we will! Who could doubt it? Maybe our friends, but not ourselves.

To be personal and let you into a secret of our life, we have always believed that some day we would own a city daily, say with a minimum size of sixteen pages. We have been consistently firm in that belief. Most assuredly, we never got anywhere near that mark, yet we confidently believed that the attainment was "just around the corner." Now at fifty, we know that the great enthusiasm and physical strength that win unusual success are gone, and with them went illusion; the ego of youth dropped away and fell to the ground with a dull and sickening thud.

That's it; it was hope! That thing that keeps mortals moving and striving, and pushing and fighting upward and on. Hope, legend says, springs eternal in the human breast. But is it so? No, it is not so. It springs eternal in the breast of youth and middle age, but not on the shady side of life.

And that is the sad part about getting old. It is the mind that matters, not the body. Often the body remains comparatively young, but the mind grows old—and, oh! how ridiculous.

All of us are more or less ridiculous in our ambitions. Yet it is better for us and the world that we aim high, than not to aim at all. We generally miss the high mark, but in the striving for big things we find interest and satisfaction.

Being fifty, then, is getting too much wisdom; the mind refusing longer to be fooled into believing in fairy tales. But how pleasant fairy tales really are. Well do we remember sitting upon our father's knee when a little boy, back in an early settlement of Nebraska, and while the blizzard out-of-doors made the night hideous for beast and struggling humans caught in the frenzy of cold and fury and biting wind, he told us stories of fairyland—a land full of toys and bliss for little children. We believed those tales, and were happy.

Growing up as a lad we first had ambitions to be a great cattle baron, and for years that thought filled us with energy and anticipation. Later—several years after our father's death—we began our career on his old paper, a most natural thing to do. There was so much to learn in a newspaper office! There was never a weary or uninteresting moment. We mastered the trade of a printer, and years before at the age of eighteen began writing editorials, which were printed through the generosity of a former colleague of our sire, who, admiring our father's fearless and vitriolic pen, wished to encourage the son in his editorial aspirations. This man still lives and we had the happy opportunity of thanking him a few months ago while in Nebraska. While we were young we did not have sense enough to thank him, thinking the reason that our youthful efforts were published was because we were a budding genius.

Then our attention turned to travel. There was so much to see. So many newspaper offices to work in. We wanted to work in all of them.

STREET LIGHTS ARE TARGETS FOR AIR GUN MARKSMEN

Christmas air guns, in the hands of irresponsible urchins are contributing to the discomfort of Niles citizens, it was noted this week when residents of Third street reported that small boys were popping out the street lights in that neighborhood.

A. J. Petsche, Pacific Gas & Electric Company representative here, said that repeated warnings would be followed by decisive action. He urged local parents to impress upon the youngsters the value of the lights.

Harvey Braun, Boy Scout committee head, when informed of the practice, stated that he will see to it that all members of the troop are warned. If it develops that scouts have been engaging in the pranked marksmanship, they will be suspended from the troop.

Merchants of Niles, getting wholeheartedly behind the party, will contribute the prizes. When all the awards are assembled they will be displayed in the Jones and Ellsworth windows. Among items of value already slated is a $5 cash door prize, donated by the Bank of Alameda County.

Dr. E. C. Grau, committee head, stated Monday that cake and coffee will be served. Harvey Braun was named as committee-man to supervise the arrangements for the refreshments.

CAMP FIRE MOTHERS CLUB WILL MEET HERE TUESDAY

Members of the Washington Township Camp Fire Girls Mothers' Club will meet at the home of the president, Mrs. Gladys Williamson, next Tuesday, to discuss problems confronting the club.

Foremost at the meet will be a discussion of whether the mothers group will remain as a single unit, or separate into regional groups in each town. Necessity for the decision was brought about by the resignation of Mrs. J. E. Townsend, former guardian, who had maintained the Camp Fire units under one head. Now that a number of guardians have been selected, each in different districts, the mothers feel that each group might be better served by a local mothers organization. All interested mothers are urged to attend the meeting.

"EFFICIENCY! That's what you women need to learn!" Ben Gardner paced up and down, around little heaps of things not yet picked up from the bedroom floor. "If men ran their offices as carefully as you women run your homes!" he continued. "If we utterly disregarded system the way you housekeepers do. Oh heavens! what a mess it would be."

"Oh hush up, you make me nervous," Esther shooed back bright curls. "I'm tired of always hearing you rave about masculine efficiency."

Esther surveyed the cluttered room. She did try to plan, but there was always something coming up. One could say, "Dishes, 8 to 8:15; beds, 8:15 to 8:30; and so on." It looked fine on paper. But baby would choose 8:00 to fuss.

"Forget it or you'll dud your shots," she kept her voice bright—it was still early in the day and she had a lot to do. She had to be cheerful. Baby to bathe, dress, feed, put to sleep; dishes to wash and wipe; kitchen to mop; baby's washing; beds; clean up the living room; lunch—the morning seemed too short. Oh, well, no need for lunch exactly at twelve today. Ben's vacation took care of that.

Twelve o'clock. "Lunch ready?" Ben's booming voice woke the baby. Little Ben had refused to stay on schedule that morning and had started his nap an hour late.

"You quiet the baby. I'll be right down to fix something," Esther at Laurel Grove, Fred, he was looking in' sour again, an' when Maybelle grabbed my arm an' started steerin' me toward the dance hall, he says to me, 'I thought you ast Miss Geary to come with you tonight.' He said it kinda nasty-like, an' I started to come back at him but I didn't want to start nothin' so I says:

"Where's my blue-eyed baby?" "Right where you left her," says she, kinda sassy.

Well, we went in the dance hall an' danced a couple dances, an' then we strolled over to the outdoor cabaret. We set down at one of the tables. Maybelle was next to me, an' after a while she begins makin' passes at me. I see that wouldn't do, so while the others was standin' up watchin' the cabaret show, I grabbed her by the wrist an' says: "You come with me, girly." We went down by the lake an' I hired a canoe, but we hadn't any more'n got pushed off from shore than I heard a hollerin', an' there was the others. Fred was in the lead, an' he didn't stop for water or nothin', he come right out to where we was.

"Hey, how do you get that way—takin' Maybelle out in a canoe?" he yells, an' I see he was mad clean through.

"What's that 't' you?" says I, gettin' mad myself. "If Al don't mind, you should worry. Maybelle's his wife, not yours." An' with that I give Fred a push with the paddle, an' he sits right down in the water. Well, you never heard such a yell as that feller Al let out. He luffed an' luffed an' luffed. I thought he was luffin' because Fred looked so funny settin' there in the water, but then I heard him gaspin', "Oh, boy! Oh, boy! Maybelle! My wife!"

"Well, ain't she?" says I. "Oh, boy!" says he, luffin' some more. "Oh, boy! you need to get hep all right! Why, Maybelle ain't been my wife 'r five years, I'm married to Myrtle now, an' Maybelle's Fred's wife."

Say, I never heard the end of it. Oh, sure, we made it up all right. When Fred realized that I'd thought Maybelle was still Al's wife, he understood everything. Fact is, he apologized to me as much as I apologized to him. Fred's a perfect gentleman. Oh, yes, I had a fine vacation. Nothin' like a congenial bunch to make you have a good vacation. But after that night I stuck to my own girl pretty well. In fact, here she comes now, Mr. Smith, meet my wife, Mrs. Dill, Miss Geary that was."

ASSAULT CHARGE IS FILED AGAINST SECTION HAND

Manuel Flao, sometimes known as Manuel Fields, 55, section worker, will be arraigned tomorrow before Judge J. A. Silva at the Niles justice court, on attempted assault charges brought by Mrs. Ida Maria, 23, of Niles. The charge reads that Flao entered the Maria home on Riverside avenue on December 22, seized Mrs. Maria with intent to assault her. Her screams for help attracted the attention of two near-by workmen, who immediately came to her assistance. The workmen are said to have administered a severe beating to the would-be assaulter. Flao was arrested on January 4, and released on $1000 bail.

Mrs. Maria's husband, a war veteran, is a patient at the Arroyo, sanitarium, near Livermore.

"What! Nothing ready for lunch? Why it's twelve o'clock!" Ben sounded peeved.

"No hurry today, dear, you know," Esther called. "You don't have to be anywhere at one."

"You women!" Ben exploded again. "Say, listen here, Esther. This afternoon you and I are going to take an hour off and I'll plan your work for you, since you don't seem able to do it yourself." Ben lost his temper completely and Esther knew that his golf had been bad. But she grew very resentful.

Lunch was a quiet, sullen affair. At three, after little Ben went to sleep—off schedule—Esther joined her husband on the terrace. She carried pencil and paper. Her voice was soft—too soft, if Ben had stopped to notice. It put him off his guard.

"See how easy it is, if you just stop to plan!" he was saying, condescendingly. "Even a nit-wit could follow this scheme and have time to rest besides."

Esther's smile only became sweeter. "You rest now, dear," she said in a concerned voice. "I must catch up on some tag ends so that this schedule can go into effect in the morning without a hitch. I'm sure you'll find that things will run along as smoothly as they do in your office."

Bennie woke at six, as usual, and Esther fed him and put him into his kiddie pen to play. She prepared breakfast and put her hat, coat, and suitcase near the front door. The alarm rang at seven. She heard Ben getting up as she slipped out the door.

"Well, how did the time budget work out, dear?" Esther, radiant, burst into the kitchen at twelve-thirty, three days later. Ben was preparing canned soup. The baby wailed.

"There! You've awakened the baby!" Ben's eyes were pleading. He was a bit embarrassed.

"Not off schedule, surely!" Esther appeared horrified. With a gay laugh she threw her arms around her unhappy husband. "Sorry I ran out on you, Sweet," she cooed. "But I got so tired of working so ineffectively. I knew the baby was safe, and as long as you could run things so much more efficiently—"

"Cut it, Esther," Ben said. "I couldn't work the darn thing even the first day. I had Elsie come in to do some of the things, but even at that—"

"Some one called up, and there were five minutes wasted," Esther said.

"And Mrs. Roberts talked a half hour over the fence while I burned the rubbish. Nosey," Ben confessed.

"And there was always something extra popping up, wasn't there, old dear?" Esther was really sorry for her husband.

"If you hadn't come today, I'd have hired everything done," he said.

"I was wondering if you would."

"Well, I was too stubborn, I guess," Ben admitted. "I just wanted to prove to you that it could be done. But it couldn't."

"Not with an infant around," Esther sympathized, hastening into the kitchen just in time to keep the soup from burning.

"Miss Ellis."

"Yes, Mr. Gardner?"

"Are those statements ready?"

"Not yet, Mr. Gardner, I'm sorry."

"Efficiency! That's what you women need!"

"I beg your pardon?" The secretary's voice was an inquiry.

"Oh, nothing," Ben mumbled.

SMALL QUANTITIES OF GOLD FOUND AT IRVINGTON

The "Irvington gold strike," made known here this week, has assumed smaller proportions than when first broadcast. Gravel operators at Irvington, where the gold was first discovered in wash from the gravel, state that they expect no rush of prospectors to pan the fine dust averaging fourteen cents per ton of gravel.

It is true, however, that gold exists in small quantities in the face of the Niles Irvington fault. Ernest Garcia of the Garcia Gravel Company stated that he has known of the presence of the valuable metal for some time, but analysis proved that it was in such minute quantities that handling the gravel to secure the gold would not pay. It is his hope that the find may prove of more value as excavation continues.

Garcia, in telling of the "strike," said that the concentrate, or wash from the gravel, was naturally higher in gold content than the original volume, but that the gravel had to be handled first. In the latter experts estimated that 2280 pounds, or a cubic yard of gravel would yield fourteen cents.

The Hirsch gravel plant, operating in the same strata as the Garcia concern, is said to be making preparations to retrieve the small quantities of gold washed out, but merely as a by-product to the regular gravel business.

The Mission hills, terminated by the Irvington scarp face, besides being an unusual geologic formation of uplifted unconsolidated sands and gravels, has attracted numerous promoters. Test oil wells were sunk at one time in hope of striking the valuable fluid. Geologists at that time, however, thought the region too highly faulted to preserve original oil structures, if any had ever existed.

ARTS, CRAFTS GUILD HOLDS REGULAR MEET TUESDAY

Fourteen members of the Arts and Crafts Guild of Washington township met Tuesday for their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. J. C. Shinn.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Bunting, on the evening of February 12.

PARENT-TEACHERS TO HEAR UNIQUE TALK AT FIRST MEET

The Niles chapter of the Parent-Teachers' Association will hold its first meeting for 1935 next Tuesday afternoon at the Niles Grammar school, members said this week. The meeting, originally planned for January 8, was postponed to avoid conflict with the meeting of the Country Club on that day.

Following a short business session, which will begin promptly at 2 p. m., the afternoon will be given over primarily to an address by Mrs. Dolores Wilkins Kent, of the Latham Humane Foundation, of Oakland. Mrs. Kent, noted for her vivid lecture presentations, will tell the group of "Character Development." She will graphically show stages of character growth by means of cleverly arranged photographs and pictures.

Previous to the main talk, Mrs. O. W. Ebright, health nurse, will tell of the ground to be covered by a series of seven weekly classes she will conduct in first aid. Any parent in the district who is interested in the course is urged to attend. The first of the seven weekly classes will be held at the Niles Grammar school on Tuesday, January 22, at 2:00 p. m.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

THIS INDEFINABLE SOMETHING

"There is no substitute for newspaper advertising. The radio advertisement undoubtedly produces some results. Newspaper publishers should not approach the discussion of the subject in any spirit of venom. If radio advertising is effective, if it produces results, it will endure. That is the real test of any service.

"But the fact remains that the radio ad cannot do the job alone. With few exceptions the advertiser who uses the radio uses it only supplementally and depends on the newspapers and periodicals to carry his real message. The radio advertisement carries to the listener a certain spirit of resentment, similar to the spirit which the patron of the moving picture feels toward the screen advertisements. The average radio listener-in knows, of course, that radio programs cannot be maintained and furnished him without advertising talk when he is listening to a favorite program.

"The fact that many newspapers have engaged in the broadcasting business themselves does not alter the situation as regards the desirability of newspaper advertising over other forms. It would be idle to say that newspaper advertising is the only advertising which brings results for, of course, did other forms of advertising not produce results those who spend their money for them would not continue to do so. But it remains a fact that the newspaper is the preferred advertising medium and gives the advertiser more for his money than any other form of publicity. This is not an idle statement nor a wild guess, but it is a fact proven by careful survey; and check-ups made over a long period. There is something about the influence of a newspaper going into a home which carries a prestige which no other form of advertising can possibly carry, the benefit of which the advertiser enjoys. This indefinable 'something' which goes with the newspaper is something that money cannot buy. The newspaper is an institution, an entity. It grows in the affections of its readers; it is eagerly looked for and read by all members of the family. The newspaper goes into the home because the reader invites it there.

"THE NEWSPAPER WILL CONTINUE TO BE THE CHOICE MEDIUM OF ADVERTISERS BECAUSE IT IS ONE OF ALL OTHERS WHICH HAS PROVED ITSELF TO BE SUPERIOR."

Thursday, January 31, and Friday, February 1, are the dates definitely chosen by the Centerville Lions Club for their huge production, "When Men Marry," a farce comedy, to be staged with the assistance of a New York company. There will be eighty-eight in the cast.

The actors will be chosen from among the ranks of businessmen in Washington township by Miss Esther Ludwig, representative of the New York concern, who will secure a list of eligible men from the club.

The production will be staged in the Washington high school auditorium at Centerville.

Among further things discussed Tuesday evening by the club was the possibility of a benefit card party sometime in the near future to secure funds for supplying new uniforms to the high school baseball team. The suggestion came when it was revealed that the athletic budget at the school would have to be curtailed this year to make up sufficient funds for repairs to the school building deemed necessary to make it earthquake proof.

HUSKERS DIVIDE 2 GAMES WITH SAN LEANDRO TEAM

Back in uniform after a holiday lay-off, the Washington high school casaba tossers showed good form Tuesday evening when they split two games with the San Leandro High school fives.

The Husker varsity, led by the accurate eye of Center Dale Laybourne, took the "A" contest by a margin of three points. Laybourne was high point man with 14 points. The score was 26 to 23. Muniz, Dundas, Rose and Silva held down the forward berths. Juarez shared center post with Laybourne. Guards were Kato, Rathbone, Dinsmore and Salz.

The "B" quintet fared worse, dropping their contest to the San Leandro "B's" by a tally of 27 to 15. The smaller boys had difficulty in getting under the basket. Shots were few and far between.

Coach Jess Regli stated that he was satisfied with the showing of his charges, taking the long period of rest into consideration.

Tomorrow night the local fives will meet the Pleasanton tossers in a league contest.

In addition to the engine, the fire commissioners here authorized the purchase of five hundred feet of new hose.

A WHISPERING CAMPAIGN is telling the story of 1/2 OFF
on EXTRA
ELECTRICITY

"WHY I LEFT THE PORCH LIGHT ON ALL NIGHT."

And my, how this lady worried about it. But it wasn't worth worrying about because with 1/2 Off on Extra Electricity, a 60 watt lamp will burn 24 hours for 1¢.

"YOU KNOW I DID A LOT OF WASHING LAST MONTH."

Now this lady took us at our word—that 1/2 Off on EXTRA Electricity was cheap electricity. She ran her electric washer 12 EXTRA hours in December, and although she couldn't notice it, her bill was only seven cents higher for all that extra service from her electric washer.

"JACK SAT UP TO ALL HOURS STUDYING."

Then, too, Jack had one of the new Better Sight study lamps with a 200 watt globe. His studying was made easier and he got better grades in all his subjects. It was certainly worth that penny a night for better sight with 1/2 Off on Extra Electricity.

"THE HOUSE WAS A MESS AFTER CHRISTMAS."

What house isn't quite messy after the tree is taken down! Then out comes the vacuum cleaner to get rugs and furniture, walls and drapes, all spick and span again. An extra thorough job can be done this January with the low cost 1/2 Off EXTRA Electricity. 22 hours of electric cleaning for 10¢.

"I THOUGHT AN ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR COST MORE THAN THAT TO OPERATE."

Hundreds of women are surprised each month to find that the marvelous electric refrigerator cost so little to keep going. But think how cheap it now is to operate on 1/2 Off EXTRA Electricity. A full month of 50 degree refrigeration for 80¢.

Yes, indeed, the good word is getting around fast. 1/2 Off on EXTRA Electricity is a genuine bargain.

Sulphur Fumes Stop Motorists In Canyon

Sulphur smoke, nothing new to apricot growers of Washington township, proved to be too much for motorists in Niles Canyon Tuesday, when a truck bearing a load of the yellow chemical, caught fire.

J. Pimentel, driver of the big vehicle, made a futile attempt to extinguish the freak blaze, but gave up the task as hopeless. The huge cloud of white sulphur dioxide filled the canyon gorge with an impenetrable curtain, through which the more timid drivers were afraid to venture. The truck was bound for San Francisco from Fowler, near Fresno.

MISLAID XMAS SEALS PROBLEM TO ASSOCIATION
Christmas seals hidden away in desks and table drawers—forgotten—will not fight tuberculosis.
This was the statement of the Alameda County Tuberculosis and Health Association today in an appeal to those who may have overlooked their Christmas seals. The statement said:
"It is not too late for those who received Christmas seals during the holiday season to take part in the year-round work for the prevention of tuberculosis."
"Success in the Christmas seal sale now depends upon the response of the many persons who have unintentionally mislaid or overlooked their envelope containing Christmas seals."
"One of these envelopes may be in your home or office. There they remain useless and idle but tuberculosis—sinister foe to human life—works on and maintains its place as the chief cause of death among young people."

NILES WINS THIRD STRAIGHT GAME IN SERIES

A two-hit game, in which the Pleasanton nine met its third defeat at the hands of the Niles, C of C's by a score of 8 to 0, exhausted suitable local competition for the Niles aggregation Sunday afternoon. Manager Clarence Pine stated after the contest, that he will have to go farther afield to secure tougher opponents.

Giving Johnny Aguiar splendid support for the first five frames, Niles chalked up six runs, then settled back and let Ray Duarte make the Pleasanton boys pop them up or bobble them down the baselines for the remainder of the game. Aguiar allowed only two hits. Duarte none.

Heavy hitters of the day were Duke Dutra and Aguiar. Both got home-runs.

Niles scoring began in the third inning when Medeiros singled, then was driven home by Aguiar's homer. Raso and Fields were walked over the plate in the same frame. Duke's homer swelled the count to five in the fourth. Muniz scored on Tony Duarte's single to add another in the fifth, and Dutra scored on Fields' double in the sixth to bring the total to seven. Clarence Pine ran across with the eighth tally on Tony Duarte's infield out in the seventh canto.

Manager Pine was negotiating with an Oakland team early this week for a game here Sunday.

FOSSILS FOUND NEAR IRVINGTON SENT TO SCIENTIST

Possibly some of the oldest fossil remains in this section of the state were unearthed recently in the excavations of the Garcia Gravel Company at Irvington, in gravel strata 140 feet below the surface.

Single bones, with the structure largely replaced by silica, have been brought to light. One such bone weighed 260 pounds. Elmo Grimmer, University of California student, took some of the remains to the university for analysis. Others were sent to the geology department at San Jose State College, where Professor J. Buss identified them as remains of an extinct species of horse. Buss concluded other bones sent him by Garcia were those of a large and now extinct mountain sheep. The geologist placed the age of the bones at one million to four million years B. C., in the Pliocene era.

Storm Brings Down Alvarado High Line

Storms that brought over an inch of rain to the Niles district, and started the flow in Alameda creek late last week, had their baggage of trouble as well as good.

While pea growers and orchardists hailed the downpour as timely, Pacific Gas & Electric Company crews battled fallen lines in the Alvarado district. The 11,000-volt main line at the salt works near Alvarado came down late Friday afternoon. Crews worked until late that night making the necessary repairs.

Light service throughout the district was unimpaired. Heavy rains since January 1, culminating in a downpour Monday evening, brought a total of 2.21 inches for 1935. Monday's storm brought .88. The seasonal precipitation to date is 9.96 inches, as against 4.77 inches at this time last year.

Continued rains yesterday and last night added to the total this week. For the rains yesterday, up to 5 p. m. gauges registered .32 of an inch.

NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register and like "Kokomo" Philips, of Indiana, we tried very hard to gratify that ambition by not staying longer than a month at any one place at any one time. So we saw the United States, parts of Mexico and Canada, and got to be known by more printers than about any journeyman of our time. It was hugely satisfying, and our interest and enthusiasm never lagged.

Time went on and we married; and then the thought of becoming an influential publisher germinated in our mind, and kept us enthused for a dozen years.

Now comes fifty and disillusionment!

The pity of it!

But Osler may keep his chloroform.

We choose to live!
